

Assault on Sevastopol
Version 1.1 changes (7/17/09)

3.0 Starting the Game; #2: Important: The seven two-step Soviet Division units are set up on their reduced (one-step) 2-5 sides.

7.2 German Replacements: At the end of that German Player Turn, all reduced-strength German units that are not adjacent to an enemy unit, and one Soviet division in each Fort hex (regardless of the proximity of enemy units), are flipped back to their full-strength side.

8.5 Advance After Combat: If no enemy units remain in a hex after a battle and friendly units remain adjacent to it, the attacker may immediately Advance After Combat. That is, those victorious attacking units may be freely moved into that newly vacated hex, and one additional vacant hex beyond the defender's vacated hex if the defender chose to retreated two hexes from a "3" result. Any or all surviving units that participated in that battle, up to the stacking limit in each hex advanced into, may advance.
